

All my love to you, Grandmother

I feel wretched without you
I have loved you my whole life through
I want you back with me and all my family
We lived so happily

I can't describe the sadness I feel
These days in my life just don't seem real
I face the loss now you are gone
I wonder how I shall live on

You gave me so much help I needed
All your good advice I heeded
How I wish you were here today
I have so many things still to say

And finally, I would like to forgive
The man who stopped your right to live
And say I love you and I will never Forget you in my life forever
