

Dealing with Pain

There are failures in everyone's life Some people are just too proud-be careful, because pride can seem arrogant and seeming can get being and then the arrogance thrives To know a person is to know their pain, to always help them and to always listen to them complain An addiction to love is and addiction to pain, because they go hand in hand and are almost the same Listen to me when I give you advice because there are failures in everyone's life No matter what-you can always count on my support if you want to try something I am on board but darling, if you are feeling insane hurting yourself won't kill the pain
