

silent destruction

It should have been the beginning of a new life

As they just became husband and wife

Having a party and celebrating

Getting drunk –

But look at what's it creating

Quite irritating

When the trailer catches fire

But you can feel no desire

To leave this whole thing

As you are too drunk

To feel anything

Unconscious

Asleep

Silent – no weep

Flames

Destruction

Alcohol was their seduction

At least they were happy

At least it was painless

Yet their loved ones will soon

Find out what pain is

It should have been the beginning of a new life

They burned 'till the end of it
